- 164 Dutch Republic, City of Gorinchem AV Rose Noble (Rozenobel). 1585-1587. Dutch imitation of Edward IV of England Noble/Ryal. (mm: crown) EDWARD' DI' GRA REX ANGL' Z FRAN' DNS' IB', king with sword and coat of arms standing facing on ship, flag with gothic 'E' on to left, rose to centre of ship / IHD AVT TRANSIENS PER MEDIVM' ILLORVM' IBAT, radiant sun with rose to centre, crowned leopards and floriate features around, all within octofoil. Friedberg 80. 7.57g. (DIAMETER).

Good Very Fine.

The Flemish imitations of the English Edward IV gold ryals are well known although not always easy to spot from their originals. This particular specimen is identified by the weight, a good 0.2g less than the English examples and certain stylistic traits such as the elongated sword on the obverse and the king's wide face. For an in depth description of Flemish imitation of Edward IV ryals and their significance to British and European numismatics see by Anthony Thompson in the British Numismatics Journal 1945. Continental imitations of the rose noble of Edward IV" £2,000-3,000
